

The Evil System of this world is too subtle and too designing and too contriving to be handled by a believer minus spiritual food residing in the soul. We should never divorce ourselves from our source of strength – our source of strength is God and His Word.