A thought about last Wednesday's message. On the subject of happiness. The reason why things or places will not bring happiness is because the body is the interface for the soul in time. Our soul is built for eternity and our body is built for time. In the realm of time, where the body goes the soul goes. As stated before, the soul controls the body. Happiness or sadness is possessed by the soul. You can go to Hawaii all you want, your happy or sad soul tags along..
